I learned, many times over, very early on there are going to be tons of people that will say you can't.
If you don't try, learn from your mistakes and embrace constant change they are right. If you empower yourself with a thinking infrastructure, tech tools & pragmatic processes, YOU CAN DO IT whatever IT is!

HS JUNE

Well Ms. Cross I want to be a banker.

MS. CROSS

You mean you want to be a secretary to a Banker?

HS JUNE

Nope, I want to be a banker. I worked the last 2 summers on Wall Street first as a secretary to a broker then as a secretary to a banker.

MS. CROSS

Oh honey, banking is a man's job. Women can only be secretaries or teachers. You have very good grades in math. You would make an excellent math teacher.

HS JUNE

I can't be a banker because I am a woman?

MS. CROSS

Now you are understanding! Listen, honey I don't know why you would want to work? You are so pretty you will make a wonderful housewife for any man.

HS JUNE

Oh... OK I guess I pick math teacher.

June leaves looking disappointed. She passed Jerry who approaches Ms. Cross.

Jerry went on to work at Pfizer and in 1985 he was one of the inventors AND patent owners of Atorvastatin. Marketed under the trade name Lipitor, it is used primarily as a lipid-lowering agent for the prevention of cardiovascular disease.

Jerry "breaks the fourth wall" and talks directly to camera.

It works by inhibiting HMG-CoA reductase, an enzyme found in liver tissue that plays a key role in production of cholesterol in the body.

For example business mogul Carl Ichan. In the 1980's he developed a reputation as a "corporate raider" after profiting from the hostile takeover of TWA. Three Nobel Prize winners went there, two in Physics, Richard Feynman in 65' and Burton Richter in 76'. Also in 76' Baruch Blumberg won the Nobel Prize in Medicine. Quite a centennial for FRHS! Great women went there too like basketball pioneer Nancy Lieberman & Dr. Joyce Brothers psychologist, TV personality and sex advice columnist. Wasn't all roses, Bernard Madoff also went there. He was convicted of the largest Ponzi scheme fraud ever. Yikes!

One of my teammates on the FRHS Math Team was Kenneth Alan Ribet (born 1948) now a famous mathematician married to mathematician/statistician Lisa Goldberg. Ken studied mathematics at Brown University then received his PhD in 1973 from Harvard. After three years of teaching at Princeton and two years of research in Paris, Ribet joined the faculty at UC Berkeley in 1978. Ribet works in number theory and algebraic geometry. JUNE (V.O.)

More than 4 million students at 450 universities, colleges and high schools paralyzed campuses with large scale student strikes & protests. Some violent and some non-violent. Students and police clashed violently at 26 schools. National Guard units were mobilized on 21 campuses.

If it wasn't for this leg I would have been a Pro. Remembering the movie, Field of Dreams, I wonder why bad things like my leg happen. Yet, if I had been drafted, I wouldn't have met June and that was and is a very good thing!

EDDIE & IRA leave the lockerroom. GUY #1 blocks their way. GUY #2 stands behind him.

GUY #1
You got lucky today Ira. I want a rematch.

Ira genuinely laughs to himself thinking "This Guy wasn't that good". Ira takes a step calmly towards him, Ira blocks the light as Guy #1 hides his fear.

Ira & Eddie walk off and on the way check their campus mailboxes on the way.

Ira gets a draft letter with an "1-Y -Registrant qualified for service only in time of war or national emergency."

The lottery numbers were assigned in December 1969 were used in 1970 both to call for induction and to call for physical examination, a preliminary call covering more men by eliminating the graduate deferment. The days of the year were represented by the numbers 1 through 366 written on slips of paper. The slips were placed in plastic capsules, mixed in a shoebox and dumped into a glass jar. Capsules were drawn one at a time. The first 195 birthdates drawn were later called to serve in the order they were drawn My DRAFT NUMBER #178... The APN (highest number) called for a physical was 215 for 1970. The lottery was found to be unfair somehow.

 right) were assigned many low numbers (bottom), representing early induction, and few high numbers (top). People soon noticed that the lottery numbers were not distributed uniformly over the year. In particular, November and December births, or dates 306 to 366, were assigned mainly to lower draft numbers representing earlier calls to serve. This led to complaints that the lottery was not random, as required. Analysis of the procedure suggested that mixing 366 capsules in the shoe box did not mix them sufficiently before dumping them into the jar. In the control group: The capsules were put in a box month by month, January through December, and subsequent mixing efforts were insufficient to overcome this sequencing." A Monte Carlo simulation found that the probability of a random order of months being this close to the 1-12 sequence expected for unsorted slips was 0.09%.

Other cool things you can do with it are: running old operating systems; accessing virus infected data, browsing in complete safety, testing new configurations, backup an operating system, create a personal cloud computer and reuse old hardware. I also dabble in VIRTUAL reality where we create a convincing environment that mimics how we would act in real life. Virtual Reality simulates being somewhere else, also known as Telepresence. If I had one superpower, it would be Telepresence. JUNE (V.O.)(CONT.)
I swore that when I got married I would never buy a house... had seen enough of them! My husband who always lived in an apartment only wanted a house in the suburbs. When his job moved out of the City, we wound up buying one.

JUNE (V.O.)(CONT.)
In 1975, I wanted to buy a townhouse in Manhattan. That was when NYC was going bankrupt. The famous NY headline from President Ford to NY was "drop dead, we're not going to help you." That townhouse would be worth 50 million these days...

Just saying. Where was I, Oh yeah.
at this point I was working at IBM.

 professional hire. I moved to the Banking Dept. IBM was what defined my career path. Mike Bloomberg made a deal to use Merrill Lynch databases with IBM hardware and software to create the Bloomberg empire!

It was the perfect time! The computer industry expanded and wove its way into everyday life. Supermarket checkout, ATM's, Portable Computers, Domestic Satellite Partnership, Systems Network Architecture (SNA), a networking protocol for computing systems. This computer communication frees computer users from the technical complexities. Researchers conceive fractal geometry -- the concept that seemingly irregular shapes can have identical structure at all scales. This new geometry makes it possible to describe mathematically the kinds of irregularities existing in nature.

IBM's researchers fabricated an 8,000-bit semiconductor memory chip with a storage density of five million bits per square inch. Also discovered the first polymer to become superconducting and lose virtually all resistance to electric current flow.

 Two very important things happened in 1977. IBM's Data Encryption Standard (DES) enciphering/deciphering algorithm, is accepted as a standard by National Bureau of Standards. It providing a high level of security for data transmitted over communication lines by making a stream of characters unintelligible, the algorithm is incorporated in the IBM 3845 encryption unit and can access more than 70 quadrillion possible keys, making unauthorized discovery extremely difficult.
